

GS4A STEERING COMMITTEE

JOHN WILKINSON, Co-CONVENER: Pastor of Third Presbyterian Church since 2001. Former chair of Colgate Rochester Crozer Divinity School Board of Trustees. Current board member of McCormick Seminary in Chicago.

LYNETTE SPARKS, Co-CONVENER: Interim Associate Pastor for Outreach & Evangelism at Third Presbyterian Church since 2013, overseeing outreach programs in the areas of education, hunger, homelessness, and advocacy.

MARILYN DELUCIA: Retired elementary school teacher with 34 years of experience in Victor and Hilton. Coordinator of St. Mary's School Partnership Committee. Tutor at Schools #9 and #44.

MICHAEL FORD: Senior Minister of Lake Avenue Baptist Church. Board member of Interfaith Impact New York State and Cameron Community Ministries.

TOM GILLETT: Regional Staff Director for the New York State United Teachers (NYSUT). Former English teacher in the Rochester City School District from 1969 until 2002.

MARK HARE: Former reporter, editor, and columnist in Rochester at City Newspaper, the Times-Union, and the Democrat and Chronicle from 1978 to 2012. Freelance writer. Volunteer for Mary's Place Refugee Outreach Center.

ROSEMARIE HORVATH: Tutor in Rochester City schools for the past 12 years. Member of the Social Justice Committee and School Partnership Committee at St. Mary's Church.

CORNELIA LABRUM: Retired elementary school educator (39 years). Tutor in Rochester City schools. Current volunteer and Former Board Chair of Cameron Community Ministries.

ELIZABETH LAIDLAW: Professor of Philosophy at Monroe Community College. Former member of School Based Planning Teams at two schools. Has led PTA, PTSA, and PTO organizations at public, private, urban and suburban schools. Former moderator of the city-county Task Force to Reduce Violence.

DIANE LARTER: Former Deputy Commissioner of Social Services for Monroe County, and former Youth Bureau Director. Consultant who works with Rochester City Schools, local nonprofits and foundations. Active on several community organization boards and committees.

JEFFREY LINN: Associate Professor of Educational Administration at SUNY Brockport where he teaches classes on leadership and site based management. Former Director of Staff Development, primary school principal and Director of the UPK programs in the Canandaigua City School District. Former Associate Professor of Literacy and Multicultural Education at SUNY Brockport.

SUE MADDOCK: Coordinator of Third Presbyterian Church's volunteer tutoring programs at Nathaniel Rochester Community School #3 and Young Mothers' and Interim Health Academy. Retired clinical medical equipment distributor.

LARRY MARX: Executive Director for The Children's Agenda, an advocacy organization for evidence-based solutions for children and youth in Rochester. Former Executive Director of Citizen Action and the Donor Collaborative of Wisconsin and Program Officer with the Proteus Fund. Board member for USAction Education Fund and the Gandhi Institute for Nonviolence. Member of the Community Relations Committee of the Greater Rochester Jewish Federation.

(OVER)

CLAY OSBORNE: Executive Coach and Consultant in Organizational Effectiveness. Teaches Human Capital management in the St. John Fisher doctoral program in Executive Leadership. Former Vice President of Human Resources for Bausch & Lomb. Former Deputy County Executive for Operations for Monroe County.

DORELIS OSBORNE: Retired elementary teacher from the Rochester City School District. Former support specialist for the District in implementing the “No Child Left Behind” initiative.

JENN POGGI: Visiting Assistant Professor at Rochester Institute of Technology’s College of Imaging Arts & Sciences. Tutor at Nathaniel Rochester Community School #3. Former picture editor and deputy director of the Photo Office at the White House.

DONALD PRYOR: Principal at the Center for Governmental Research (CGR). Author of numerous reports and blogs on education and the relationship of urban education to poverty. Member of a variety of not-for-profit boards and community organizations.

JOHN THOMAS: Former urban planner with the City of Rochester. Former chair of Urban Presbyterians Together core team. Active in city neighborhood association advocacy efforts.

JENNA TOMASELLO: Graduate student in Educational Policy at the Warner School of Education and Human Development at the University of Rochester. Advocate of racial/socioeconomic integration and regional collaboration from both educational and ethical standpoints.